

overcast before noon yesterday, and presented a threatening aspect thereafter, but without rain. A slight rise in the barometer was perceptible. The temperature ranged between 53° and 66°, the average (59.1°) being higher than on the corresponding day last year, and 64° lower than on Thursday.

In and about the city to-day there will probably be threatening weather, with a chance of light rain; no stationary temperature.

FAITHFUL STILL TO DR. McGLYNN.
The committee of St. Stephen's parish last night held their regular weekly meeting. When Chairman Peens explained why sister Francis was removed from the parish, there was considerable feeling expressed. John J. Healin had just returned from a tour through the State. He reported the feeling in favor of Dr. McGlynn.

as strong. He received rounds of applause when he said that the church was "the only place where we can go to the Church. So well has this plan been working that for the last three months the clergy of your parish have been holding services in the church."

James J. Galan, Editor of The Catholic Herald, said that Father Colton was a little man trying to fill a big man's place, William McCabe, of The Standard, also spoke.

NO FIRE IN THE ASBURY PARK OPERA HOUSE

An erroneous report was printed in THE THIRDEEN of May, stating that the opera house of Asbury Park, N. J., stating that the opera house had been destroyed by fire. The report was a complete fabrication. It also described what would be a panic attempt to take place in the opera house. The opera house was not destroyed by fire in any part of the opera house and only for a short time. The opera house was not destroyed by fire. The report was furnished by the News Association managed by W. H. England.

The explanation is as follows: "The report that has been circulated over the country that the opera house of Asbury Park, N. J., was destroyed by fire is a complete fabrication. From investigations made within the past few days, it has been ascertained that the opera house of Asbury Park was not destroyed by fire. The report originated from a statement of a board in the opera house block away from the Opera House, on its opening night, that there was no fire in the opera house. The report of a fire in the Opera House, on May 2, was also false, as the opera house was not destroyed by fire."

TERRIBLE INSULT TO A YOUNG ERIEBROOM.
 Franz Jaesch, age twenty-eight, and his sixty-year-old brother, Wilhelm, were storage passengers on the North German Lloyd steamship Ems, which arrived yesterday. Wilhelm had not only passed his youthful days, but also his old manhood in the city of Erie, where he was married and had a family. He was a native of Prussia, that is, a German, and he was a very successful business man. When he passed Elder Clark Silberstein he was a stranger. He was his mother. He then became terribly indignant and was about to break out in a rage. Silberstein, however, was a very good man. He then became terribly indignant and was about to break out in a rage. Silberstein, however, was a very good man. He then became terribly indignant and was about to break out in a rage. Silberstein, however, was a very good man.
